International Symposium for Young researchers in Regulatory Science

27 February 2018

Regulatory Science in a global perspective

In collaboration with Japan Student Regulatory Science Forum with research delegates from Gifu Pharmaceutical University, Japan and Biopeople.

Venue: Faculty of Health and Medical Sciences, Blegdamsvej 3B, 2200 Copenhagen N Mærsk Tower, room 7.15.149.

10:00-12:00 Presentations. What is your research project?

Each participant presents a 3-minute pitch about their research project (visual aids are optional) followed by a very short Q&A with the audience. At the end of the day three presentations will be given awards. A committee of 5 professors and students from Japan, the Netherlands, and Denmark will vote on the awards.

12:00-13:00 Lunch, sponsored by the University of Copenhagen

13:00-15:00 Workshop on future research trajectories in Regulatory Science

In groups, participants will be asked to discuss future research topics and issues for regulatory science in a global, cross-cultural perspective. Each group will give a short presentation summarizing their discussion and presenting key ideas.

15.00-16.00 Wrap-up and award ceremony